DORFMAN PACIFIC'S SWEEPING SELECTION OF STUNNING HANDBAGS FOR SPRING/SUMMER 2009

(Stockton, CA) If nobody had ever in all history said "a woman can never own too many handbags," one look at Dorfman Pacific's richly varied Spring and Summer 2009 selection would have them saying it now.

This season, the leading California-based headwear and accessory manufacturer is offering an extraordinarily rich choice of more than 100 versions of handbags, shoulder bags, totes, backpacks and clutches in a huge variety of shapes and sizes—in solids and prints, in bright colors and naturals (some with an embroidery option), and in a vast range of open and close weaves of single and combined materials. There are bags made of cotton, raffia, rattan, straw braid, paper braid, sea grass, toyo and maize, with trimmings and decorations that run the gamut from leather to lurex.

In addition to all of this, as Dorfman's President and CEO Douglas Highsmith points out, "many of our handbags are also designed to match hats in our popular collections. They look great on their own, and so do our hats. But in my opinion, there is nothing more eye-catching than a woman who is wearing a great hat and carrying a great handbag of the same design."

Dorfman Pacific bags range from elegantly formal to rustically casual and relaxed, providing the perfect choice for any imaginable occasion. Available at a range of price points, they are beautifully crafted and finished, and where appropriate include full linings and/or wall and cell phone pockets.

Dorfman Pacific is now the largest full-line in-stock headwear and accessories company in the world. Operating from its 270,000 square foot facility in Stockton, it has showrooms throughout the USA, and customers worldwide for its men's, women's and children's headwear, bags and accessories. Dorfman Pacific brands include Indiana Jones, Scala Classico, Scala Pronto, Scala Collezione, Callanan Resort, Millinery and Legacy, Stacy Adams, Toby Keith Western Hats, Christys', Christys Crown Series, Tropical Trends, DPC Global Trends, Headers, Scala Pro Golf and Equator. Its Milano division features Larry Mahan and Justin Authentic Headgear.
